JOURNAL OF PROCEEDINGS
214th ANNUAL CONVENTION

The two hundred fourteenth meeting of the Convention of the Diocese of Rhode Island began with a reception and dinner at 6:00 p.m. on Friday, October 29, 2004, at Rhodes on the Pawtuxet, Cranston. The theme for this year's Convention was Leading and Serving: Leadership, Outreach, Advocacy and Service.

Following dinner, Ms. Peggy Amatore, Director of Episcopal Charities, spoke to Convention about National Philanthropy Day on November 23th. Two of our parishioners will be honored as volunteers in Partners in Philanthropy. They are Joe Gonsalves from All Saints, Warwick, and Bruce Livingston from Trinity Church, Newport. She then introduced the Rev. Craig Burlington, President of the Board of Episcopal Charities, who presented the Bishop Higgins award to Harry Sacchetti and Carol Keiser for their many years of volunteer work for Episcopal Charities.

Bishop Wolf introduced the speaker for the evening, the Rev. John Holt, Executive Minister of the Rhode Island State Council of Churches. He spoke on Leadership: Stop! Look! Act!

Convention reconvened on Saturday, October 30, 2004, at 8:30 a.m. with a celebration of the Holy Eucharist. The preacher for the celebration was the Rev. Sabina Alkira from Harvard University. Her topic was "Outreach, Advocacy and Service".

Convention was called to order at 9:45 a.m. The Chancellor noted that all clerical and lay delegates are entitled to voice and vote and that all Deputies to General Convention, all officers of the Diocese and all Chairs of Commissions of the Diocese are entitled to a seat and voice, but not a vote, unless they are otherwise members of the Convention. He also observed that the Convention is open to all persons unless otherwise ordered by Convention. He said that the Convention is governed by the Constitution, Canons, and Standing Rules of Order of this Diocese. He asked all speakers to identify themselves by giving their names and congregational affiliation. He further said that any "late resolution" should be given to Ms. Carol Ann Bennett, the chair of the Committee on Resolutions,

The Secretary reported that there was a quorum present, at least one-third of the clergy were present and one-third of all parishes and missions were represented by at least one delegate. The Rev. Barbara Mays-Stock then moved that the Agenda for the 214th Annual Convention is hereby approved as presented. The motion was passed.

The Rev. Mark Galloway reported for the Committee on Elections. He presented a slate of nominees for the various offices. Mr. Harry Sacchetti was nominated from the floor as a lay member of the Standing Committee. The Rev. Robert Brooks was nominated as a member of the Commission on Finance.

The Chancellor introduced the following Special Rule of Order for the election of Deputies to the General Convention:

Resolved: That the following special rules of order for the election of deputies to General Convention are hereby adopted:

1. Alternates. The selection and seniority of alternates shall be determined by the aggregate number of clerical and lay votes from the first three ballots. In the event of a tie, the Diocesan Council shall determine the selection and seniority.
2. Nominees. Beginning with the fourth ballot, and for each successive ballot, the clerical and lay nominee with the lowest number of votes from the preceding ballot shall be deleted from the list of nominees.

This was passed. The Chancellor then introduced a further resolution:

Resolved: That the following rule of order for the selection of members of Diocesan Council is hereby adopted:

That the term of office for members of Diocesan Council shall be determined by the order of election and by the aggregate number of votes received in descending order.

This was passed and Convention proceeded to vote.

The Bishop then introduced clergy new to the Diocese since the last convention:

The Rev. Patricia Sheppard, Vicar, Church of the Holy Spirit, Charlestown.
The Rev. Edward Boucher, Priest-in-Charge, Church of the Good Shepherd, Pawtucket
The Rev. Philip Tierney, Rector, St. Paul's Church in Wickford.
The Rev. Pamela Mott, Rector, St. Mary's Church in Portsmouth.

She welcomed the Rt. Rev. David Joslin, retired bishop of Central New York and former rector of Christ Church, Westerly, as Assisting Bishop.

She announced the ordination of the Rev. Timothy Griffin, transitional deacon.

She spoke of new staff members since the last Convention:

Ms. Betsy Fornal, Clergy Deployment officer.
Ms. Wendy Shapiro, Administrative Assistant to the Bishop.
Ms. Sarah McLaughlin, temporary Administrative Assistant.
The Rev. Richard Bardusch, Canon for Congregational Development & Mission.

Mr. Robert Bachelor then gave the Treasurer's report. After the presentation he moved that the financial statements of the Diocese of Rhode Island be accepted as presented. It was so voted.

Following this the Bishop gave her address to Convention. A copy of this address is appended to these minutes.

She then called upon Ms. Kathleen F. Good to report on Hispanic Ministry. A copy of this report is appended to these minutes.

Following that, Ms. Meredythe Nadeau reported for the Commission on Congregational Development. Then Ms. Susan Hurn gave a report for the Episcopal Conference Center Task Force. Her report is included after these minutes.

Mr. James Segovis gave a status report on the Diocesan Study, given the title "Bridge Builders." He announced that there would be a further meeting with the clergy on Thursday, November 18, at St. Paul's Church, Pawtucket.

Convention then recessed for noonday prayers, including the reading of the Necrology and then for lunch.

The Bishop called Convention to order at 1:00 p.m. and the results of the first ballot were announced. There was no election for a clerical member of the Standing Committee, Mr. William Plumb was elected as a lay member of the Standing Committee. The Rev. David Ames was elected as a clerical member of Diocesan Council and Mr. James Segovis, Ms. M. Jeanne Mason, and Mr. Benjamin H. West were elected as lay members of Diocesan Council. The Rev. Dn. Ted Hallenbeck was elected to the Commission on Finance. The Rev. Patricia Sheppard and Ms. M. Jeanne Mason were elected to the Commission on Congregational Development.

The Rev. Craig Burlington, the Rev. William Locke, and the Rev. Canon John Van Sieten were elected as Deputies to General Convention in the clerical order. Ms. Caryl Frink, Ms. Mary Ann Kolakowski, Ms. Elizabeth Fornal, and Ms. Carol Anne Bennett were elected as Lay Deputies to General Convention. A second ballot was needed to elect a fourth clerical Deputy to Convention and a clerical member of the Standing Committee. Convention proceeded to vote.

The Bishop then gave a PowerPoint presentation concerning the Windsor Report and on the nature of the Anglican Communion, its organization and the various members.

On motions from the floor the Rev. James Frink was elected Secretary of Convention and Mr. Robert Bachelor was elected Treasurer of the Diocese.

On nomination from Diocesan Council, the Rev. Jennifer West, Mr. Howard R. Merriman, Jr., and Mr. Austin C. Smith were elected to the Commission on Investments.

The Bishop nominated the Rev. Robert Anthony for a four year term on the Ecclesiastical Court and this was confirmed by Convention.

For the Commission on Ministry, the Bishop nominated the Rev. P. Wayne Runner, the Rev. Alan Maynard, and Mr. Philip Masquelette for three year terms and Mr. Marvin Abney and Mr. Vernon Graves for one year terms. The Convention confirmed these as members of the Commission.

For the Commission on Congregational Development the Bishop put forth the names of the Rev. Donald Parker, the Rev. Pamela Gregory, and Mr. Robert Wells. These were confirmed by vote of Convention.

Mr. Edmund C. Bennett, Esq. was confirmed as the Chancellor of the Diocese. The Bishop announced that she had appointed the Rev. Daniel Burke to the Commission on Supplemental Benefits. Other appointments included Mr. Sydney Clifford to the Committee on Canons and the Rev. Robert Vandereau to the Committee on Agenda.

The Committee on Elections brought in the results of the second ballot. The Rev. Sandra Haines-Murdocco was elected to the Standing Committee. There was no election for the fourth Deputy to General Convention so that a third ballot was taken.

Following balloting, the Bishop appointed a committee to audit the Minutes of Convention: Mr. Edmund C. Bennett, the Rev. Kenneth Franklin, and the Bishop. She also announced that she has appointed the Rev. Jonathan Ostman and Ms. Dorothy Wells to the Committee on Resolutions. Further, she has appointed the Rev. Gregory Cole and Ms. Evelyn Brchan to the Committee on Elections.

The Bishop introduced Ms. Carol Anne Bennett, the chair of the Committee on Resolutions. She presented the following resolution:

RESOLVED, That these reports and recommendations will be made to Diocesan Council at its May, 2005 meeting and to the 215th Annual Convention.

The resolution was moved and seconded and after discussion it was passed.

Ms. Carol Anne Bennett then presented a second resolution with the recommendation that it be referred to the Committee on Canons and the Committee on Program and Budget because of a name change and an issue of funding.

This was passed.

A third resolution was presented with the recommendation that it be referred to the Committee on Program and Budget because there is an issue of funding.

The resolution was moved and seconded. A motion to table was defeated. After discussion, the submitter of the resolution was asked to reword the resolution to take into account objections to the phrase "continuing revelation". While this was being done, the next resolution was presented. The original resolution read as follows:

APPORTIONMENT REDUCTION AND REVIEW
(Submitted by the Rev. Robert W. Anthony, Christ Church, Westerly)

RESOLVED, That the 214th Annual Convention votes to reduce the present Apportionment amount from 17.5% to 16% in 2005 and directs the Program and Budget Committee of the Diocese, in consultation with the Bishop's Office, the Finance Committee and the Diocesan Council to review the "formula" regarding Apportionment (in accordance with Canon xiv: 14.2b) to include a proposed reduction for parishes and missions demonstrating actual costs for outreach use of parish facilities and staff, subsidized by the parish or mission operating budget; and be it further

RESOLVED, That the Diocesan Program and Budget Committee presents its research with recommendations to the 215th Annual Convention.

This was replaced by a substitute resolution:

APPORTIONMENT REDUCTION AND REVIEW

RESOLVED. That the resolution adopted at the 2003 Convention for the Apportionment Percentage is hereby reconsidered and amended to add the following: Notwithstanding the foregoing, an Apportionment Percentage of 17.0% is hereby approved and adopted for all parishes and missions for fiscal year 2005.

RESOLVED. That this 214th Annual Convention requests the Committee on Program and Budget of the Diocesan Council and the Commission on Finance to review the definition of "income" under Canon 14.2 and consider the inclusion of a deduction for actual costs for the use of parish facilities and staff in outreach programs with a report and recommendations to Diocesan Council and the 215th Annual Convention.

It was moved, seconded and passed to refer the first resolution to the Committee on Finance and Diocesan Council. The second resolution was then voted upon and passed.

Convention then returned to the resolution entitled “Inclusiveness in the Church”. It was moved to amend the resolution by striking the word “continuing” in the third line of the resolution and capitalizing the word “revelation”. The amendment was accepted and the resolution as amended was approved. The resolution then reads:

RESOLVED, That this 214th Convention of the Diocese of Rhode Island affirms that theologically and historically we rely on the incarnate Christ, and therefore: we are open to newer and deeper understanding of God’s Revelation; we accept the limitations of human knowledge; we pledge to strive for justice and peace among all people; and we advocate for inclusiveness which respects the dignity of every human being.

There was one late resolution titled “Jonathan Myrick Daniel’s Day”. On action of Convention it was agreed to consider the resolution. It reads as follows:

JONATHAN MYRICK DANIELS DAY

(Submitted by the Rev. Alcide Barnaby, Jr., the Rev. Karen Fraioli, and the Rev. David Ames.)

RESOLVED. That the 214th Annual Convention of the Diocese of Rhode Island votes to establish an annual Diocesan Observance to commemorate the life, work, and vision of Jonathan Myrick Daniels to be held on the third Wednesday of August.

The resolution was adopted. The Committee on Elections then brought in the results of the third ballot. The Rev. Jennifer Phillips was elected the fourth clerical Deputy to General Convention. The alternate Deputies will be determined according to the Special Rule of Order adopted at the start of Convention.

The Bishop acknowledged the work of the Rev. Jeffrey Jenckes, a National Guard chaplain who returned this spring after 14 months of service in Iraq. She also noted that the Rev. Neal Goldsworthy has been called to active duty and will be serving as a service chaplain in Kuwait. The Rev. James Bocchino suggested that parishes notify the editor of RISEN with the names of those serving in war zones so that they could be listed and prayed for. The Bishop agreed that this was a fine idea and suggested that these names be sent to her office and they would be gathered and sent to the various parishes.

The Rev. Alcide Barnaby called the attention of Convention to the upcoming Provincial meeting and Convocation to be held the Friday and Saturday before Thanksgiving. The theme of the Convocation is HIV/AIDS in Africa.

The Rev. Richard Bardusch told Convention about a new ministry in the Diocese, Recovery Ministries, dealing with addictions and addictive behaviour and providing resources.

The Bishop announced a Diocesan Convocation to be held on Saturday, February 26, with more information to be forthcoming.

Following some further announcements, the Bishop called upon the chair of the Committee on Resolutions who, together with Mr. Geoffrey Milner, presented the following courtesy resolutions.

RESOLVED, that the 214th Convention expresses its gratitude to the Rt. Rev. GERALYN WOLF for her ministry as Bishop and assures her of our affection, support and prayers; and be it further

These resolutions were greeted with applause and appreciation. Convention then moved to closing prayers and a blessing by the Bishop. Convention adjourned, sine die.

BISHOP'S CONVENTION ADDRESS
30 OCTOBER 2004

We gather together at this Convention, with a special focus on Leadership and Outreach, which I will call Mission.

Mission is everything we do to reveal the presence of Christ, and his promises. Mission is about anticipating the glory of the Kingdom of God, and sharing its gifts outside the walls of the church. It is about relationships, the crossing of cultural divides and economic differences, stepping over thresholds, reaching out to the poor and being enriched by their generosity. Mission is compelling, exciting, and challenging. It demands sacrifice for the sake of others. The Catechism says, "The mission of the Church is to restore all people to unity with God and each other in Christ." (BCP, 855)

In my visits throughout the diocese I have heard an important question, "What do we get for all the money we give to the Diocese?" A more Christ-like question would be, "What do we give for all the money we give to the Diocese?"

When we draw our gifts together, we are extending Jesus' arms of sacrificial and reconciling love, and thus draw others into his embrace.

What are we giving? Amongst many things, we are giving hope to Spanish speaking Christians, training for local churches, vision for the Episcopal Conference Center and I want to focus on those three because for years I've heard there is no vision and no focus and no mission in this diocese.

Hispanic Ministry is one of the most critical initiatives that our diocese has undertaken in many years. In January 2004, Father Jose Roberts became the full time Missioner of our diocese, serving part-time as priest-in-charge of St. George's Church. Since then, the average Sunday attendance at St. George's, Central Falls, increased from 80 parishioners to over 150. It is estimated that 13% of Rhode Island's population is Spanish speaking. The harvest is plentiful, and our church has an extraordinary opportunity to expand this ministry. The Church of the Epiphany recently began a Sunday afternoon service in Spanish. Forty people attended the first Mass. They have just gotten off the ground and their average attendance right now is about 25. The Committee for Hispanic Ministry has chosen Olneyville and the Church of the Messiah for its next site. We know that Woonsocket and Newport have significant Spanish speaking populations, as does Cranston. We are taking advantage of the opportunities for evangelism and church growth, but one priest cannot do all the work, even with the help of devoted lay leaders.

The goal of the Committee is to call another full time priest for Hispanic Ministry during the year 2005. For those who seek a strong and viable vision for our diocese, the focus on ministry to Spanish speaking people is critical.

What are you giving for your giving? Spiritual hope and pastoral care to an ever-growing part of our population.

Each parish can be a place for mission, for self-donation that brings light to hearts that seek a way to move beyond the shadows.

The Commission for Congregational Development has worked long and hard in addressing the need to help our churches develop tools for growth and renewal. A significant part of their work is to strengthen our resolve for mission. Instead of spending money to patch up problems, the commission is supporting churches that desire to embrace the rewarding challenges of change and growth. They have developed a three year process to help churches articulate goals, develop styles of evangelism, incorporate new members, increase skills for spiritual formation, education, and organizational growth. First and foremost, every church is a place in which God is worshipped and praised. And every church is a school of formation so that the baptized will know the faith and proclaim its message. Once again, I cannot instill more forcefully how important it is to have education available to adults every Sunday, even if it is for only twenty minutes. And every church is a training camp for mission, reaching out to extend God's kingdom.

Another significant work this year has been the Episcopal Conference Center. My sincere hope is that we have programs and facilities at ECC that promote the Gospel of Christ through the witness of community. Creating Christian community is our guiding principle, and safety and security our continual commitment. The ECC task force listened to many voices throughout our diocese. They learned that we want to maintain the family spirit that has endured for three generations, while broadening our vision to welcome new programs and ideas into this vital circle. Many of our campers come to ECC un-churched. Our camps are fertile ground for evangelism. They are also pathways to ordination, as many of our counselors seek God's will for their life and are discerning their vocations.

To fulfill Christ's mission, we must continue to share our resources. Some refer to this sharing as apportionment and others as a tax. Whatever your description, the focus of our work is to live in Christ Jesus and Transform the World. What are we giving to others? Christian witness in our prisons and colleges, recovery ministries to those with addictions, micro-enterprise for those seeking to begin a small businesses, a voice for low-income housing, and active commissions and committees to expand our outreach and development for leadership. These things find their growth and vitality when we do them together. In our parishes and missions there are ministries that are best fostered on the local level, and serve the needs of a local community. That's called subsidiarity: having mission as close to the local level as possible and, working as a diocese for expanded programs.

St. Paul said to the Church at Corinth: "... everything is for [Jesus'] sake, so that grace, as it extends to more and more people, may increase thanksgiving, to the glory of God." (2 Corinthians 15)

I invite you to think honestly and creatively of how we can continue to turn our resources to God's glory. Let me share a concern and a challenge. We have many churches with very few members. We have parishes and missions that can no longer afford even a half-time priest. They use their resources for survival. Let me ask you. Is this the Gospel? Does this provide energy and joy in spreading the kingdom? The members of these churches are devoted, faithful, hard working, in love with the church in which they worship and they have hope for future growth. However, they're spending down endowments, foregoing building maintenance, not growing in numbers, and constantly worrying about money. Some of these characteristics are applicable to larger churches as well. The Christian community is more than anxiety and worry, more than survival and maintenance. As a body, as a diocese, we must give serious, prayerful attention to a repositioning of our resources. With the Commission on Congregational Development, I plan to increase my attention to the stewardship of our material resources in order to increase our spiritual integrity. In the almost nine years that I have been here I have heard over and over again, "She's going to close our church." If that's your worry, there must be some reason for it. We cannot use the resources that God has given to us for maintenance and survival when our state and world are crying for a more invigorated ministry.

Jesus said, "All authority in heaven and on earth has been given to me. Go therefore and make disciples of all nations, baptizing them in the name of the Father and of the Son and of the Holy Spirit, and teaching them to obey everything that I commanded you." That's why we can't be weighed down by our buildings nor be held back by a false notion that the 1950's will return. They won't. Jesus demands more from us. Following Jesus is about sacrifice, not for ourselves, but for the sake of others. As much as I love to receive, being a disciple is about giving. Giving is the road to receiving.

In the year 2000, the year of Jubilee, each deanery had access to $10,000 to create a new area of mission. With much perseverance, the Aquidneck Deanery formed an Interfaith Hospitality Network with eight inter-faith religious communities. Each church and synagogue, in rotation, provides one week of nightly food and shelter for homeless families. In the course of a year, each opens their facilities six times, possible for almost every parish. Because of the proximity of each house of worship, children can attend the same school for an entire year, and parents can find and maintain employment.

The East Bay Deanery, decided to create a chapel at the airport, affording travelers a place of prayer and quiet. Following 9/11, new restrictions were placed on airports, delaying this project, but not diminishing the dedication of this deanery. While waiting for airport construction, they developed a relationship with the Rhode Island Council for the Arts and solicited entries for the chapel. The artists have completed their work, and the airport will soon complete theirs.

These are significant ventures, and projects like them are possible for anyone who has the creativity and will to do it.

Through faith and perseverance these deaneries have given gifts to the homeless and travelers. It is you, the people of the Diocese of Rhode Island who have made this possible.

My sisters and brothers we place ourselves under the authority of Jesus. It is not our will, but his. It is not our ministry, but the sharing of his hope for the world. Leadership in the church is about taking the Christian message seriously, and imparting its promises to others. It's about faithfulness, commitment, and action. Hispanic Ministry, Congregational Development, Episcopal Conference Center, and everything mentioned is what we're giving for our giving. In addition, we give almost $500,000 to 99 missions through Episcopal Charities, and over $400,000 to worldwide missions through our apportionment to the National Church.

People in your church are going to ask, "What are we getting for all that we give?" You are leaders! Don't join in with gossip and negativity. Take the address home. Share it with them. You're the voices. You're the ones who make the difference.

One year ago, I supported a resolution passed by this convention to secure the services of a consultant to help move toward a renewed sense of our work and ministry as a diocese. The Standing Committee chose the consultant, and with him, developed a process to further the goals of the resolution. What began as an in-house look at our common life, and the systems within it, was publicized through the local newspaper, the associated press and a national church magazine. I was pained and hurt by reading some of the comments, and to learn that the preliminary remarks of our consultant were given to the religion editor of the Providence Journal.

When a reporter asked the Archbishop of Canterbury, Dr. Rowan Williams, what was the most difficult aspect of his ministry, he replied, "I am sorry that I cannot meet everyone's expectations." I am also sorry for not meeting the personal hopes and dreams that some of you seek in a bishop. My friends, I have made many mistakes and I am sincerely sorry if through my weaknesses and shortcomings, you have been hurt or disappointed. The gift of Jesus is reconciliation, and it is to this end that we must press on. "Bear with one another," says St. Paul, "and, if anyone has a complaint against another, forgive each other; just as the Lord has forgiven you, so you also must forgive," (Colossians 3:13)

Like any priest in a parish, I experience a certain level of discomfort when the matter is greater than the capacity of somebody to come through the door and actually face me one on one. It is called gossip. It is called innuendo. It is not, as I understand it, in keeping with the words of the Gospel.

The ministry of a bishop, as described in the catechism, is: "to represent Christ and his Church, particularly as apostle, chief priest, and pastor of a diocese; to guard the faith, unity, and discipline of the whole church; to proclaim the Word of God; to act in Christ's name for the reconciliation of the world and the building up of the Church; and to ordain others to continue Christ's ministry." It is to this work that I recommit myself. If you wanted a very kind, gentle, extremely pastoral understanding bishop, I told you long ago you probably shouldn't have elected me. I understand John Holt when he talks about passion. And our passions are usually raised not for everything, but are targeted to specific areas. We must learn how to live with different passions, to forgive those whose passions differ from ours and to move on. This is critical. Chances are I would never call St. Paul to be part of my staff.

It is in this spirit of leadership leading to reconciliation that I give thanks to Dr. Jim Segovis and the Bridgebuilders Action Committee. They have spent an extraordinary amount of time listening to people and discerning those things that will bring energy and renewal to our diocese. I trust their work and will take seriously their insights and participate in the goals and actions that they will present to me, the Standing Committee and Diocesan Council.

The need for reconciliation is not limited within our families and our diocese, but within the whole Anglican Communion. You may have read of a recent report, the Windsor Report, written by a Commission appointed by the Archbishop of Canterbury. They addressed ways in which to maintain our unity as a Communion in the midst of much division, primarily, but not exclusively, in response to the election and consecration of a gay man to serve as Bishop of New Hampshire. Before further action is taken, the thirty-eight Primates of the Communion will officially receive and discuss the Windsor report at their regularly scheduled meeting in February 2005. Prior to that gathering, a special meeting of the American House of Bishops will take place in January. In preparation for this meeting, I called together a representative group of clergy and laity to discern how this report may have an effect on our diocese. In December, a member of the Commission, and a signer of the Windsor Report, Bishop Mark Dyer will speak at a meeting of the clericus, to which others may attend.

I believe that it is Christ's will that we should be one, and I will work toward that unity within our Anglican Communion and diocesan family.

The plight of the poor must not be held hostage by our inner struggles. Remember my friends; the real work before us is mission. That is what Jesus would have us do. In keeping with this vision, I propose that our diocese pursue one big, exciting, extravagant, incredible, fantastic mission together. I am calling the people of this diocese, this great Diocese of Rhode Island to contribute fifty thousand pounds of non-perishable food to the Food Bank! That's our goal and we're working with the Rhode Island State Council of Churches. But no one, none of the churches has set so high goal. I think we can do it. Fifty thousand pounds of non-perishable food. That's our collective mission. And The Reverends Mary Canavan, Pat Bailey, and Ted Hallenbeck will work with the churches and our diocese to reach this goal. And my friends, we are not going to donate dented cans and outdated spaghetti. We're going to give the best because we want others to receive the first fruits of our prosperity.

There's something else. I very recently learned that the Presiding Bishop has accepted my invitation to make an official visit to the Diocese of Rhode Island. His Friday schedule is to be determined, but on Saturday May 8th, Bishop Joslin and I will join him in confirming all who would normally be confirmed during the Easter season. There's much to do in preparation for his visit and Sue Hurn and Barbara Mays-Stock will chair a committee to make this happen. We could have over a thousand people in attendance. What a glorious event for our diocese!

I am deeply grateful to my staff, and to all of you who work so hard on behalf of the church. Without your dedication, we could not enjoy the many things that are happening in our churches and diocese.

My friends, we live in very difficult times in our world, country and church, yet, I remain enormously hopeful. I know that we will move beyond present difficulties and get on with the mission of the Church. Cast your vote on November 2nd. Pray for the Church. Pray for peace throughout the world. Respect the dignity of those who differ from you. Seek reconciliation at every turn. Choose for mission and outreach. Spread the good news. Receive and offer the gift of forgiveness. Lead with courage and faith. Be generous. Use our resources wisely. Love God with your whole heart and soul and mind.

"Let the words of Christ dwell in you richly," said St. Paul "teach and admonish one another in all wisdom; and with gratitude in your hearts sing psalms, hymns, and spiritual songs to God. And whatever you do, in word or deed, do everything in the name of the Lord Jesus, giving thanks to God the Father through him." (Colossians 3:16-18) And that my friends is where we are. Amen.

ECC TASK FORCE
PRESENTATION TO DIOCESAN COUNCIL
OCTOBER 30, 2004

Bishop Wolf and members of Convention:

Please listen very carefully to what I am about to say: We are NOT working toward closing ECC! (Somewhere I read or heard that people remember the first thing they hear.)

The Episcopal Conference Center Task Force was formed a year ago to assist Betsy Fomal in her capacity as the diocesan consultant to Bishop Wolf.

Guidance from the Bishop was to insure that ECC is and will be in the future; all that God wants it to be. It is today and should continue to be a place of spiritual development for youth and adults, including worship in the Episcopal tradition, program offerings for all ages and experiences in a safe environment. From a practical standpoint the desire is for ECC to become more fiscally independent over the years.

In order to move forward, we needed to look back at the history of how ECC came to be. We then looked at today and have started to look to the future. The rich history of ECC and the people who have served and/or attended camp there calls us to be very deliberate in planning for the future. While we do not wish to change the basic ethos of the place, we need to look to the needs of the future. Is it safe? Are the programs keeping up with the needs of the campers? Is the number of staff adequate? Is space being effectively used? Who are the campers (what is the Episcopal/non-Episcopal ratio)? Does the food service reflect the food pyramid? These are just some of the questions we have addressed.

We developed a new mission statement for ECC:

"The Episcopal Conference Center in Rhode Island - a place where youth and adults are formed, nurtured, and sent forth as faithful Christians by worshipping, working, studying, and living the Gospel in Community."

If any of you have been involved in developing a mission statement for work or your church, it won't surprise you that it took us several meetings to develop this statement!

The information gathering phase of our work has been going on since the summer. Members of the Task Force were at registration days for most of the camps, asking parents/guardians to meet with us for a brief period to answer some questions. We then held "listening posts" in various locations in the Diocese, as open forums to address the same questions. We have talked with around 400 people, asking the same four questions. I'm pleased to say that many of the camp counselors participated in our discussion groups. Their desires and recommendations are very much in line with those who have been involved with ECC for years.

If you have not had an opportunity to talk with us, or fill out a questionnaire, we have a stack on the Resource Center table, it looks like this ...Please fill out and leave at the table or return to me (address on reverse of the form) before November 18.

Some members of the Task Force visited other local camp and conference centers to see how they run and get a feel for their programs. We came away with some ideas for ECC and recognizing the work that is currently taking place there is much the same as at our neighbors.

We also worked with a consultant from the Episcopal Camps and Conference Centers, who visited with us in December of last year at ECC. He came back this summer to spend a short period of time during one of the camps. One of his recommendations in December was that ECC consider working toward accreditation by the American Camping Association. The ECC committee is working with the Director, Susan Henthorne, on that project. Some of the physical changes he recommended are already in place, thanks to the efforts of Joyce and Lance Roberts and Susan.

The Task Force is ready to go into its next phase - that of evaluating the information we have received and work to develop a strategic plan that we hope to give to Bishop Wolf after the first of the new year. At that time the work of the Task Force will be finished.

I would like the members of the Task Force who are here to please stand. has been a pleasure to be a part of this group looking toward an exciting future for ECC.

Thank you.

Report on Hispanic Ministry
RI Diocesan Convention
October 30,2004

It has been an exciting year for Hispanic Ministry in the Diocese of Rhode Island! Father Jose Roberts moved to Providence at the beginning of January, called as Hispanic Missioner to continue a ministry to Spanish-speaking communities that was begun in our diocese twenty years ago. He worked with the Hispanic Ministry Committee to develop a plan to strengthen the Hispanic community at St. George's in Central Falls and plant new Hispanic congregations in other parishes over a three-year period. The plan was ambitious, yet Father Roberts' enthusiastic leadership and God's grace have blessed this ministry with growth to exceed our expectations.

St. George's Hispanic congregation has more than doubled in size since January. In addition to the joyful celebrations of Sunday Eucharists, Holy Days, baptisms, first communions, confirmations, Quinceaneras, and special fiestas for Mothers' and Fathers' Days, the congregation has expanded its Sunday School program, organized a Youth Group and ECW group, provided ESL classes, enjoyed weekly Bible Studies and monthly Healing Services, and held a couples conference. Thanks to the generosity of ECW and several local parishes, 31 parishioners from St. George's were able to attend a weekend leadership retreat at ECC last spring. The congregation is growing and developing a program that will continue to draw new people into the community.

Last spring Father Roberts also began to plant a new Hispanic community at Church of the Epiphany. On April 24th, a special Spanish-language Eucharist at Epiphany celebrated the anniversary of the Dominican Republic's Constitutional Revolution and offered prayers for the upcoming presidential elections. Father Roberts also began Horas Santas, or Holy Hours, weekly at the homes of people who lived near Church of the Epiphany and who were interested in learning more about the Church. By the middle of August, there was enough interest to begin regular Sunday afternoon Eucharists. The Spanish-speaking community at Epiphany is growing and will be exploring ways to expand its congregation and ministries.

Father Roberts is planning to start building a third Hispanic community at Church of the Messiah at the end of this year. The Hispanic Ministry Committee is looking for ways to better support Father Roberts in his ministry by locating additional resources for staffing and program. We desperately need help from both English and Spanish speakers. This is a rapidly growing ministry, which has a great need for people who can support the development of Spanish-speaking congregations. If you are willing to help or just want to find out more about our work, please speak with Father Roberts, Father Bardusch, anyone from the Hispanic Ministry Committee, or me. This is an exciting ministry and we'd love to have your help! Thank you.

Chair of the Hispanic Ministry Committee

CONTINUING EDUCATION COMMITTEE

The Continuing Education Committee dispenses grants to clergy serving in churches of the Diocese of Rhode Island who wish to engage in specific continuing education programs that will benefit their parochial ministries. The Committee normally meets several times a year or as needed to respond to applications. The grant moneys come from restricted endowment funds and grants must conform to the terms of the restrictions and to the policies guiding the Committee.

In 2004 a total of $2,945.00 was granted to seven clergy for this purpose.

Respectfully submitted,

The Rt. Rev. David B. Joslin, assisting Bishop

ANNUAL REPORTS

CLERGY DEPLOYMENT

The work of the Deployment Officer is to be an extension of the Bishop's ministry of oversight especially with respect to the stewardship of ordained ministries and congregations in transition. In the year 2004, the Rev. Canon Pamela Rannenberg served as Deployment Officer until her departure on June 1, after which the Bishop appointed Elizabeth Fornal to serve in this capacity.

The function of the Deployment Officer is to counsel clergy on their individual career, vocational and deployment needs; advise and guide congregations in times of transition; manage the diocesan calling process working with the interim clergy and consultants; and maintain diocesan contact with regional and national groups, and agencies such as the Church Deployment Office, the Deployment Ministry Network, and the Province One Deployment Officers.

In 2004, we had nineteen of our congregations in transition. During the year, we welcomed the Rev. Mark Galloway as Rector of St. Andrew and St. Phillip in Coventry, the Rev. Edward Boucher as Priest-in-Charge of Church of the Good Shepherd in Pawtucket, the Rev. Patricia Shepherd as Vicar of Church of the Holy Spirit, the Rev. Philip Tierney as Rector of St. Paul's in Wickford, the Rev. Pamela Mott as Rector of St. Mary's in Portsmouth, the Rev. Eletha Buote-Greig as Rector of St. James in Woonsocket. In the fall of 2004, St. Martin's Church in Pawtucket and St. John's Church in Ashton began a collaborative ministry with the Rev. Jeffrey Jencks serving as Rector of both parishes.

Respectfully submitted,

Elizabeth Fornal
Deployment Officer

COLLEGE COMMISSION

A bishop from Iowa said, "When a diocese cuts its funding of campus ministry it is eating its seed corn!"

Campus Ministry in and through the Diocese of Rhode Island is going through a transition. The retirement of chaplains, reduction of funding by the Diocese, and turnover of support leadership have all had their impact. In 2005 steps were taken to reaffirm campus ministry and begin establishing ways in which it can be carried out.

A Campus Ministry Consultation has begun meeting to support existing ministries and to explore other possible means of ministering to those in higher education. This consultation is composed of those currently engaged in campus ministry and supportive clergy and lay leaders. The challenge is to create anew vision of the mission to our campuses and to find funding to carry out the vision. A Symposium on Campus Ministries is being planned for December of 2005. It is hoped that interest and support for campus ministry can be roused in order that this very important ministry may be adequately funded and supported in the future.

Existing Campus Ministries in the Diocese of Rhode Island:

Brown-RISDI Chaplain: The Rev. Elizabeth Sherman (a half time position)
URI: The Rev. Jennifer Phillips acts as a volunteer Episcopal Chaplain in her free time
Bryant College: The Rev. Phillip Devens is the half time Protestant Chaplain, and is paid by the Council of Churches

Respectfully submitted,

The Rt. Rev. David B. Joslin, Assisting Bishop

ANNUAL REPORTS

CONGREGATIONAL DEVELOPMENT COMMISSION

The year 2004 was focused on the launch of our Congregational Development Program called TRANSFORMING CONGREGATIONS. Our strategy is to gracefully transform the vision and increase the skills of parish leadership teams, both clergy and lay, who will in turn lead their parishes through the changes to grow and thrive.

Twelve parishes committed to be part of our initial program. Those parishes are Calvary Church, Pascoag; Christ Church, Coventry; Church of the Holy Spirit, Charleston; Emmanuel Church, Newport; Church of the Epiphany, Providence; Church of St. Peter and St. Andrew, Providence; Church of the Messiah, Providence; St. Alban's Church, Centredale; St. David's on the Hill, Cranston; St. George's Church, Newport; St. Luke's Church, Pawtucket; and Trinity Church, North Scituate. Church of the Ascension in Wakefield was our field test site and went through our program in advance of the first group.

Each of these parishes has identified a leadership team of 7-10 individuals, including the rector or vicar and has committed to bringing health and vision to their respective parishes. These leadership teams made a 3 year commitment to participate in this pilot program.

The Congregational Development Commission planned six Saturday training sessions called THE LEARNING COMMUNITY, which met on the first Saturday of each month beginning in October and finishing in April 2005. These sessions are lead by national and regional experts and are designed to provide Parish Leadership Teams with tools and methodologies that can be implemented in their parishes. Topics include:

- Church Vitality-looking at the big picture
- Focusing on vision and mission for your parish
- Communication and dealing with conflict
- Stewardship
- Marketing Your Church
- New Member Incorporation

Each Leadership Team was charged with taking the skills they learned at the sessions and implementing them in their parish. The goal of this initial phase is for each church to implement a plan of action which will lead them to grow and thrive. They will continue to receive guidance from the Commission and may apply for matching grants to fund new initiatives.

Congregational Development grants are given to support new initiatives on a matching basis and will not be granted to support operating budget short-falls or fund emergency repairs to physical plants.

ANNUAL REPORTS

THE COMMISSION ON MINISTRY

The Commission on Ministry advises and assists the Bishop in the implementation of Title III, Ministry, of the Constitution and Canons of The Episcopal Church. Under the guidance and oversight of the Bishop, the Commission has primary responsibility for the selection, examination, interviewing and evaluation of all applicants for Holy Orders and in the determination of present and future opportunities and needs for the ministry of all baptized people.

In following these charges the Commission designed and oversaw a seven session Discernment Program that included an Introductory Dinner, a Quiet Day, and programs in Adventure in Awareness, Christian Formation, Assigned Readings, Trip Through the Prayer Book, and a Closing Event for evaluation and feedback from participants in the program. This program is to help participants learn more about themselves and their gifts and to assist them in finding a path for ministry—whether ordained or lay—that is right for them. It is not an evaluation process and while required for those seeking ordination, it is open to all. Nine people from throughout the Diocese participated in this program and five applied for Postulancy interviews.

The Commission continues to work with the following people who are presently in the process of ordination for Holy Orders:

Seeking Priesthood

Tim Griffin, Church of the Redeemer, Providence, Candidate, ordained to the Diaconate on October 10, 2004

Scott Gunn, Church of the Ascension, Cranston, admitted as Candidate on May 14, 2004

Susan Carpenter, Trinity Church, North Scituate, admitted as Postulant on October 8, 2004

Dennis Bucco, St. Barnabas' Church, Warwick, 1st year, Boston University School of Theology

Susan Wrathall, St. Paul's Church, North Kingstown, 2nd year at General Theological Seminary

Meaghan Kelly, Grace Church, Providence, 1st year at Virginia Theological Seminary

Seeking Diaconate

Robert Kerr, St. Peter's by-the-Sea, completed 1st year of Diocesan Deacon Program

Dorothy Brightman, Cathedral of St. John, Providence, completed 1st year of Diocesan Deacon Program

Transitional Deacon

M. P. Schneider, St. Stephen's, Providence, General Theological Seminary, entered 1st year

The Commission sent an invitation to priests in charge of parishes asking them to nominate and encourage young people that may be interested in ordained ministry to attend the Pathways to Ministry Conference in Dallas, Texas.

The Commission met in July to evaluate the past year and prepare for the upcoming year. The Discernment Program for 2004-2005 was formulated with attention being given to the feedback received from the participants in last year's program.

Sections of the new Title III canons were assigned to members to study and make presentations to the Commission in the forthcoming year.

Bishop Joslin was invited to the December meeting and provided a fascinating description of his hope for the future as to deacon training. He challenged the Commission to develop a new deacon training program by June 2005 and open the process by September 1. (The Rev. Wayne Runner was appointed Dean of Formation in early 2005).

ANNUAL REPORTS

We would like to extend our sincere thanks and appreciation for the gifts and hard work of those who served on Commission: Gil Graves, Alan Maynard, Jennifer Pedrick, Stephanie Shoemaker, John Van Siclen, Mary Texiera, Annette Cox, Marvin Abney, Linda Cappers, Michael Lemons, Phil Masquelette, Rick Robinson, GERALYN WOLF, ex-officio, and Marcia Camino, Secretary.

Respectfully submitted,
Ms. Annette Cox and the Rev. John Van Siclen
Chairs

THE COMMISSION ON SUPPLEMENTARY BENEFITS

Due to the generosity of Episcopalians of previous generations, the Diocese has a fund which can assist retired clergy and their surviving spouses in maintaining health insurance. The fund does not request or receive funding from the Diocesan Budget.

While the fund does not produce enough income to guarantee any benefit to clergy as an “earned right,” it can, however, help some of our clergy whose income is such that it cannot provide adequate health insurance. The Commission meets quarterly to review applications and the status of its funds. In 2004, 32 persons benefited from the fund with grants totaling approximately $62,000.

Current policies regarding the fund are as follows:

To receive assistance an applicant must be a cleric who is canonically resident in the Diocese of Rhode Island for five (5) years or more, be under no ecclesiastical discipline, and have retired from a paid full-time church position which put him/her on the Diocese of Rhode Island’s health plan before retirement.

There is no eligibility for assistance for early retirement (before age 65) unless retirement is caused by disability.

The only assistance currently available is health insurance. Health insurance here means participation in the coverage offered by the Church Medical Trust of the Church Pension Fund. Upon the applicant’s being found eligible, the Commission will defray the cost for him/her and spouse in the Church Medical Trust Premium Plan which is a supplement to Medicare coverage. The retirees will be expected to pay Part B, Medicare Coverage, which is deducted from social security payments.

Exceptions to these policies will be considered by the Commission overseeing this Fund in cases of extreme hardship upon receipt of application for assistance.

Upon retirement and in any (or every) year thereafter, a statement of need may be required by the Commission.

Currently the Commission consists of the Revs. Harrington M. Gordon, J. Daniel Burke, Everett H. Greene, Ms. Marilyn Sayles and Ms. Nancy Brown.

Everett H. Greene, Chair

They, too, continue to serve their church, Episcopal Charities and their community.

MINISTRY TO THE DEPARTMENT OF CORRECTIONS

The Episcopal Diocese of RI and Episcopal Charities support a part-time Chaplaincy at the Adult Correctional Institution (ACI). The goals of this ministry are: to address the pastoral, liturgical, spiritual, and theological needs of the church and the unchurched; to help incarcerated men and women encounter the love of Christ and to be a witness to the healing and restoration of hope, mercy, and forgiveness which is offered by Christ to all. Thanks to the prayers and support of those in parishes and our Diocese, the prodigal sons and daughters of our state are invited back home to be our neighbors through the hope of restoration and healing that is offered them.

Indirectly the Chaplaincy also benefits parishes and clergy in RI. The Chaplain helps clergy with parish members who get arrested to negotiate this system and she also pays courtesy visits to their parish members. Family members of those incarcerated also benefit because the Chaplain ministers to them by phone at times of crisis, such as, death or serious illness of a relative.

Rev. Joyce Penfield, a canonically resident Episcopal priest in RI, who has over 15 years of prison ministry experience in Massachusetts, New York state, and Rhode Island, works with a team of 5 other part-time Chaplains (1 Protestant, 3 Roman Catholic, 1 Muslim) in 7 different units which comprise the ACI system to serve a resident population of 3,700. A total of 16,000 men and women are admitted to ACI each year.

The residents at ACI typically enter with a multiplicity of problems: poverty, undereducation, lack of legitimate job skills, and mental health needs. Over 12 per cent have serious mental needs and at least 70% of the residents have a substance abuse problem which often led to their criminal behavior or the acts for which they are serving time. Of the women, the majority come from abusive family/spouse backgrounds or parents who themselves suffered from substance abuse problems or were incarcerated. Despite the many regulations and nature of prison which hinder getting these needs addressed during incarceration and despite the very oppressive nature of the system of prison itself, God's transforming love and mercy does shine through this gloomy scene with the help of religious volunteers, mentors, drug treatment programs in selected facilities, and the work of Chaplains.

Chaplain Penfield serves as Institutional Chaplain of the 2 Women's Facilities and Men's Minimum/Work Release which means she recruits, trains, and supervises all religious schedules and volunteers of all faiths for these 3 units. She has tried to create a balance of religious programs, introducing courses on spirituality and self-understanding/emotional literacy; setting goals; nonviolence; and healthy relationships.

In addition to one-on-one counseling and confessions, Chaplain Penfield offers a weekly worship service at 4 different facilities; a weekly meditation circle in both women's units; bi-annual instruction for baptism and an Inquirer's course in 4 facilities; and special memorial services for inmates who die or for ex-offenders who die after being released. (In the past 10 years, over 120 women have died within months of their release.

Another major activity of this Chaplaincy are spiritually-based courses which focus on: self-understanding, emotional growth and spirituality for those in recovery from addiction and/or abuse. Two of these courses, Houses of Healing, and Boundaries for Healthy Relationships, are nationally recognized and are also very popular with the inmates. Such courses provide an opportunity to deepen relationships with inmates and to offer pastoral counseling to a larger number of inmates than one on one counseling affords. Chaplain Penfield teaches 10+ of these courses per year.

Card and eyeglasses ministry is another important activity of the Chaplaincy. Inmates receive a birthday card each year. Eyeglasses and greeting cards are also provided by the Chaplain upon request by inmates in need. Many parishes in the Diocese have helped by donating cards—always needed and appreciated by the women and men inside. The Chaplaincy also organizes the Angel Tree project each year which helps local parishes provide gifts for children of inmates.

The activities of worship, Baptism, pastoral crisis/grief counseling, spirituality and healing courses, supervision of volunteers, card and eyeglasses ministry, and administrative work makes for a very busy and active Chaplaincy as indicated by a few numbers below:

ANNUAL REPORTS

The Chaplaincy exists only through the support and prayers of you and the Diocese as we live out our Baptismal covenant to seek and serve Christ in all persons, loving those who are and will physically be our next door neighbors one day. Thank you for making the servant ministry of the Chaplaincy a reality.

In Christ,

Rev. Dr. Joyce Penfield, Chaplain
Women's & Men's Minimum/Work Release

RESOURCE CENTER

Life in the Resource Center continues at a wonderful pace during the year. I continued consultations with parishes. Significantly added to the materials in the Resource Center, especially the video library. Since many of the new material will be coming out on DVD, I purchased a DVD player for the Resource Center and will order more DVD's than VHS.

We held our first Diocesan Convocation in March at Roger Williams University. Approximately 200 people attended, including the folks preparing for confirmation/reception. A wide range of workshops were offered and well attended. One of the most popular was Harry Sacchetti's on flower arranging. A lot of smiling faces left at the end of the day with flower arrangements in hand!

Journey to Adulthood and Godly Play trainings were well attended. I had hoped to have an Educator's Wellness weekend in April, but with Lent and Easter preparations I did not get the publicity out on time. Will try this again!

Education for Ministry continues to grow in the diocese. Two additional groups began this year.

I continue to work with the Province 1 Education Network, which I now convene. We will begin planning for Provincial Convocation 2006.

The ECC Task Force began this year, which I was honored to chair. It has been exciting for me to learn the history of ECC and to look ahead to all the possibilities it offers for the people of the diocese and Rhode Island.

I am so thankful for the opportunity to serve in the Diocese of Rhode Island.

Sue Hurn
Director, Diocesan Resource Center
